

Live in the Ideal, fix your mind on the Master within.

Inspired by "E.S. Instruction No. IV," H.P. Blavatsky Collected Writings, Vol. XII, p. 671 & fn.

Gemstone Inner Constitution of Man Symbolism

Gemstone	Inner Constitution of Man	Symbolism
Black Onyx	Ineffable
Flanked by:
Crystal-clear Quartz, with iridescent yellow-green tint	Atman	Immortal upper triad, The Divine Self.
Yellow Chalcedony	Buddhi
Indigo (Lapis Lazuli)	Manas, Higher
Citrine Quartz ¹	Antahkarana	Link between impersonal and personal Manas, the former being the Reincarnating Ego, or true individuality.
Emerald Green	Manas, Lower	False individuality of the common man, same as Selfishness.
Rose Quartz		ros-E about to revert to E-ros.
Pink Quartz		Spiritual aspirations and dreams of noble ideas, i.e. , glimpses into the eternal.

Outer Constitution of Man

Tied with a spindle of yellow-green Agate:

Latent duality of spirit-matter made a living trinity by Fohat, the latter being symbolised by the red cord.

Two opposing quartets of Millefiori beads, ending in the sweet scents of earthly life:

Lower tetrad, overshadowed by the Divine Self. This is the human condition, largely Māyā and Avidyā.

1. Red beads + Green Jade

Descending Consciousness, or Path of Action, Egoism.

2. Blue beads + Yellow Jade

Ascending Consciousness, or Path of Renunciation, Altruism.

¹ Two shallow cones joined by their base.